

Google Pixel 8 and Pixel Watch 2 launched.

Google announced its latest flagship smartphones, the Pixel 8 and Pixel 8 Pro, as well as the second generation of its Pixel Watch, at its Made by Google event on October 4, 2023.

Pixel 8 and Pixel 8 Pro

The Pixel 8 and Pixel 8 Pro feature new designs, upgraded cameras, and the latest Google Tensor chip.

Design: The Pixel 8 and Pixel 8 Pro have a new, more modern design with a smaller camera bar on the back. The Pixel 8 has a 6.2-inch display, while the Pixel 8 Pro has a 6.7-inch display.

Cameras: The Pixel 8 and Pixel 8 Pro have a new 50MP main camera with a larger sensor and faster lens. They also have a new 12MP ultrawide camera and a new 48MP telephoto camera with 4x optical zoom.

Google Tensor chip: The Pixel 8 and Pixel 8 Pro are powered by the latest Google Tensor chip, which is designed for machine learning and AI tasks. This means that the phones can perform tasks like image processing, speech recognition, and translation faster and more efficiently.

Pixel Watch 2

The Pixel Watch 2 has a new design, a more powerful processor, and a longer battery life.

Design: The Pixel Watch 2 has a new, more rounded design with a smaller bezel. It also has a new physical crown button.

Processor: The Pixel Watch 2 is powered by a new processor that is faster than the processor in the original Pixel Watch. This means that the watch can perform tasks like opening apps and loading data faster.

Battery life: The Pixel Watch 2 has a longer battery life than the original Pixel Watch. Google says that the watch can last for up to 24 hours on a single charge.

The Pixel 8, Pixel 8 Pro, and Pixel Watch 2 are all available for pre-order now and will be released on October 12, 2023.

Pricing

The Pixel 8 starts at $699, while the Pixel 8 Pro starts at $999. The Pixel Watch 2 starts at $349 for the Bluetooth/Wi-Fi model and $399 for the 4G LTE model.
